Yeah..

Yeah...

its time to even it up, i guess a round table weren't equal enough

you cant contain me with chains im free and i run free any enemy is coming with me when im done

Whatever's asked to me I perform,
I rip through the rain into the eye of the storm,
Still carrying the flame, eye of the torch, Failure comes at a price I can't afford, Never been half hearted I put my all in,
Forfited all just to answer my calling, Wearing the scars of the wars that I fought in,
Should'a been heading for the stars but I'm falling,

I have your soul in me
If you need them I'll be swimming in the lake, Oh baby don't look down, just take the crown.

CHORUS

We'll be kings forever, oh oh oh,
Holding on together, oh oh oh,
Feeling so much better oh oh oh,
When everything was wrong and everything was gone
We ran to Avalon.

I fought till I had the fight left,
Risky my death,
Walked with conviction in everyone of my steps,
My strengths water enough,
To wash away any of the stains on my rep,
Yeah.. I fought off vouchers',
Went against odds when I was short and soldiers,

I asked not for my burden to be lightened but if I may have broader shoulders so as I may carry the weight all the doubt I had in me has been laid so from now til the day I'm carried away I will never walk around what stands in my way fuck if they ain't letting off cos neither will I When I die from the ashes an eagle will rise as long as my blade and my faith will keep me alive Fear is something you will see in my eyes.

CHORUS

We'll be kings forever, oh oh oh,
Holding on together, oh oh oh,
Feeling so much better oh oh oh,
When everything was wrong and everything was gone
We ran to Avalon

Fought for the crowd, fought down challengers
When my massacre was ordained I remained an through pain forged my sword,

Fought for the crowd, fought down challengers
When my massacre was ordained I remained an through pain forged my sword, my Excalibur.

CHORUS

We'll be kings forever, oh oh oh,
Holding on together, oh oh oh,
Feeling so much better oh oh oh,
When everything was wrong and everything was gone
We ran to Avalon
