In Dublin's fair city
where girls are so pretty I first set my eyes on sweet Molly Malone as she wheeled her wheelbarrow through streets broad and narrow
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh!'
alive, alive oh, alive, alive oh!
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh!'

She was a fishmonger
but sure it was no wonder for so were her father and mother before and they each wheeled their barrow
through streets broad and narrow
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh!'
alive, alive oh, alive, alive oh!
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh!'

She died of a fever
and no one could save her and that was the end of sweet Molly Malone but her ghost wheels the barrow
through streets broad and narrow
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh!'
alive, alive oh, alive, alive oh!
crying 'cockels and mussels! alive, alive oh
