

Unknown

"Deaf Womans Courtship"

Visit "Deaf Womans Courtship" on MotoLyrics.com

THE DEAF WOMAN'S COURTSHIP

Old woman, old woman, are you fond of smoking?_
Speak a little louder, sir, I'm rather hard of hearing.

Old woman, old woman, are you fond of carding?_
Speak a little louder, sir, I'm rather hard of hearing.

Old woman, old woman, don't you want me to court
you?
Speak a little louder, sir, I've just begun to hear you.

Old woman, old woman, don't you want to marry me?
Lord have mercy on my soul, I think now I hear you.

From English Folk Songs in the Southern Appalachians, Sharp

Collected from Mrs. Emma Early, NC. 1918

@courtship @age

filename[DEAFWOMN

play.exe DEAFWOMN

RG

===DOCUMENT BOUNDARY

Visit Unknown page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.