I'm sprawled out on the floor for you
My head's been tossed in a direction or two I'm trying to crawl out of this hole you pushed me into
And you can ask me what I'd like you to do?

Raise the cup, toast to a truce
We lie in bed, silence speaks the truth
I watch you roll over but you don't sleep
You just close your eyes to escape me

But somehow through all of thisÃ¢â€Œ!

I believe, I believe
I took my hands off the wheel
Cause I believe in you

I'm not hopeless, hapless or helpless
The road we've traveled has been far too sheltered
I won't wander but sometimes I think that's your wish
And I bet that makes me selfish

I have to talk, that's my fault
And I need to jump but I've this fear of falling
I push your buttons just to see you react
It's not your concern, it's more the lack

But somehow through all of thisÃ¢â€Œ!

I believe, I believe
I took my hands off the wheel
Cause I believe
I believe
Won't you show me how you feel?
I believe in you
