resist, rebel, stand up for yourself they will try to bring you down one day those tables will be turned around we'll spit back in their face screaming "fuck the human race"
their oppression has fucked us for so long then they say to rebel is wrong don't believe them our rebellion ain't wrong no!

stand defiant, don't be fooled don't let anyone tell you what you do rebellion is natural when you're born they're telling you what to do schools force their beliefs on you say our ideals are just a phase, you'll grow out of it and out your age but i don't want you society, fuck a culture that rejects me
still i don't want the american dream, this "teen angst" don't die at 19
