Never really go all things seems the same. People working people say they fuck and piss their lives away. People taking everything it's all the same old shit, never giving answers just anything will fit. Fuck right off if you think i'll play a part, in this system that was doomed from the fucking start. Change a little scenery, dominates integrity. Cultures around the world result in all round corruption. Fuck right off if you think you'll ever see, in this system that takes your life away. Right to vote or wrong to vote the choice is upto you, i won't vote cause they just fuck me and you. I don't give a shit this system is the faces. Then it all fucking stops they all fuck the system, It's not getting better again it's gets worse, open up your damn eyes the world is destroyed. There ain't not future and there ain't no hope, human kind will take over there system, there ain't no future and there ain't no hope in this system that takes your life away, there ain't no future and there ain't no hope, rules and regulations getting in our way, there ain't no future and there ain't no hope.
