You want to think I have a problem
Well think again it lies within you
You act so rude and immature
Ill act the same I wont acknowledge you
But yet you still want to run your mouth
Well why even waste your time
I despise your whole existence
And that's the bottom line

Your a waste of time
Don't waste my time

No need for adolescent gossip
Fact is that you need to grow up
Don't concern yourself with my life
Because I could care less what you do

You say hello to my face
Ingrates and sellouts to our backs
Its no miscommunication
Guts is something that you lack
Your a jealous bitter waste of time
There is no need to pretend
I don't owe you a thing
Don't act like we are friend

You wonder why I feel like this
Come on open up your eyes
Your all mindless and gutless
That is why I say

I could care less what you do
Your just a waste of time
