The light is on
In the dark
The rain is in waiting in line
When you're hiding and driving
Everything in between the clouded sky

My eyes are seeing visions of June
The tears are falling flowing too soon
When you know there's nothing stop the pain
There's nothing stop the pain again

The enemies of June
Walking across the surface
Coming close to you
Driving itself in your space
Fighting for June
Fighting for you
Enemies, enemies of June is in you
In you, you, you, you, you

When you know
That you're there
Almost drowning in your own tears
Just remember I was standing right where you were There's nothing stop the June inside

The enemies of June
Walking across the surface
Coming close to you
Driving itself in your space
Fighting for June
Fighting for you
Enemies, enemies of June is you

Enemies of June
Walking across the surface
Coming close, coming close to you
Driving itself, driving itself in your space
