Everybody wants some more
Everybody, take some more
Justified to meet their maker
Satisfied to be your creator

You want more out of life
As is sucks out your eyes
Fashion ain't no surprise
Lower your chin and open wide

Strapped in your mirror world, silently waiting
But something's coming at you
So turn around 'cause here it comes, here it comes

Here it comes

Everyday you'll wake up to know,
I'll be watching you, see every move that you make
Everyday you'll wake up to know,
I'll be there each time, hear everything that you say

You got to keep yourself alive
Your fate is shortened and supplied
It's a burning design for the crucified

Strapped in your mirror world, silently waiting
But something's coming at you
So turn around 'cause here it comes, here it comes

Here it comes

Everyday you'll wake up to know,
I'll be watching you, see every move that you make
Everyday you'll wake up to know,
I'll be there each time, hear everything that you say
Every time you walk away
I'll be watching you, see every move that you make
There'll never be a place you can go
There ain't no denying

Sometimes she flies away
So high she flies away

Ya know it's clear, ya know it's time, deciding when
Ya know it's clear, ya know it's time, deciding when

Justified will meet their maker
Satisfied to be your creator
