Does he know you raise your eyebrow
When something goes on in your mind
Does he know your face starts blushing
Every time you're telling a lie
Does he know you are impatient
And run away when you're mad
Does he know you can be stubborn
And that you smile even when you are sad

And still
I'm not the guy who's lying there in your arms
And still
I hope
That one day I will be the one
To give you all the love that you need
This song will tell you exactly how I feel

It'll tell you that I know
You think we're friends
When all I want is just a chance
To prove that I could be the one for you
For you love
Love

This song will tell you that I need you boo
And that my heart belongs to you
Always wanted to scream it out loud
But the words just wouldn't come out of my mouth
My mouth
Until now

Does he know you love the thunder
On a stormy April day
Does he know you love the rain drops
And the scent of flowers in May
Does he know you love to daydream
That you smile when you're asleep
That you love the beach and the ocean
And the grass tickling your feet

And still
I'm not the guy who's lying there in your arms

And still
I hope
That one day I will be the one
To give you all the love that you need
This song will tell you exactly how I feel

It'll tell you that I know
You think we're friends
When all I want is just a chance
To prove that I could be the one for you
For you love
Love

This song will tell you that I need you boo
And that my heart belongs to you
Always wanted to scream it out loud
But the words just wouldn't come out of my mouth
My mouth
Until now
