Lately I have been questioning and
What we have is loss yeah
I heard it in your voice
That we were fighting
Tell me where it's gone

Girl I thought that we could talk about whatever Any problems that we had, we always worked it together
Did I say or is this something I've done wrong
Maybe I should know, but I don't Still I wanna make it better

If something hurting you then girl let me know
If it's me than baby tell me
You don't have to ignore
You don't want this anymore
Just don't let me be the last to know

Honestly you got me torn (and im so confused)
Cause now a days you got a new attitude And you, barely answer my calls (but when I finally get through)
You rush of the line, like I don't matter to you Was there something I said, girl what did I do? (What have I done?)

If there's a problem it ain't hard for us to work it out.
Together, no different from what we've been through before.
I can't move on, and I won't, until we make it better.

If something hurting you then girl let me know
If it's me then baby tell me
You don't have to ignore
You don't want this anymore
Just don't let me be the last to know

I never believe we go this far
Don't you let people tear what we have apart?
So girl don't do it

If something hurting you then girl let me know
If it's me then baby tell me
You don't have to ignore
You don't want this anymore
Just don't let me be the last to know
