Even if i was a Superhero
Even if i had super strength
You still make me weak with just one word
Or just one look at your face

Even if i was a superhuman
Even if i could fly across the sky
Even if i had the power to turn night into day
Make mountains from sand
And lift buildings with just my bare hands

Still wouldn't have the strength to ever leave you
Still wouldn't have the will to ever want to
Still wouldn't have the power it would take to walk away
Never could never would wouldn't even try

Even if i was a Superhero
Even if i could make time stand still
Even if i knew the secret to change fire to ice
Change water to steel
I could not change a thing that i feel

I wouldn't have the strength to ever leave you

Still wouldn't have the will to ever want to
Still wouldn't have the power it would take to walk away
Never could never would wouldn't even try

With all the powers i posses
i'd still be powerless
You still make me weak
I'd crumble at your feet

You're too strong to fight
You're my kryptonite
You could be the end of me

Still wouldn't have the strength to ever leave you
Still wouldn't have the will to ever want to
Still wouldn't have the power it would take to walk away
Never could never would wouldn't even try

Still wouldn't have the strength to ever leave you
Still wouldn't have the will to ever want to
Still wouldn't have the power it would take to walk away
Never could never would wouldn't even try
Even if i was a Superhero
