Snapshot the big top comin' your way
Footsteps so heavy they're deafening me Wooden bench keeps me company, second string put me in
INsert the ink pen, jugular vein
Break out the lunchbox calling your name Take my hand and we'll walk thgough oblivion, kiss the gun

When it all starts to fade away, in the meantime
Just dangle in front of me strange dichotomy
And tomorrow I'll waste away, in the meantime
Just dangle in front of me strange dichotomy

Suck out the life force, leave a little piece
Meat in the teeth, such a delicacy
Just keep feeding the prothetic energy, see what it brings Synthetic delusions interfering Angelic voices reassure me
In the distance the pendulum's swinging free, beautifully

When it all starts to fade away, in the meantime
Just dangle in front of me strange dichotomy
And tomorrow I'll waste away, in the meantime
Just dangle in front of me strange dichotomy

Dangle in front, dangle in front
Little bits of your insecurity
Let it bleed, vanity insanity
