here we go, it's crashing down around through the speed as we try to define doubts re-surface, waves you can't withstand we find ourselves here once again and we're...

we're falling away
we're falling away
we're falling away from this

wasn't it enough to let you feel the sun?
am i not worth every fall?
we've gone too deep to just let this fly so please hold on and let me save us please hold on and let me save us how long must i weather this storm? i'm drowning into your condescending eyes please bend for me, even just a bit can't you see that i am already broken?

and you're...

you're falling away
you're falling away
you're falling away from me

oh... can't you feel it? we are falling into the abyss that we just can't comprehend oh... don't you know that some wounds just never heal

we're falling away
we're falling away

please hold on and let me save us
