Backstabbing vultures
Are feeding on depression
Cold concrete emotions
Building up while you cave in

They'll be comin' around before you know it
Some things will never change
It's always been the same
Who can you really trust on your final day?

Everybody loves you when you're dead
Everybody wants you in the end
It's common human greed
In loving memory
Now everybody loves you when you're dead

Black morning, dead end
Suffocate obsession
Their infective corrosion
Eatin' away on your sanity

They'll be comin' around before you know it
Some things will never change
It's always been the same
Who can you really trust on your final day?

Everybody loves you when you're dead
Everybody wants you in the end
It's common human greed
In loving memory
Now everybody loves you when you're dead

There's no love for the living
There's no love
There's no love for the living
Come on and kill me
