I hear a voice from below
Something's wrong and
As soon as these words are Intruding my mind I do know:
It is her who's betrayed
By her consciousness
Starting to fade

And as if I still had
Needed to know
She's the only one
Fear starts to grow

She's alive
What a wonderful
Creation bringing time
She's alive
And she knows inside
She's alive
What a wonderful
And joyful singing time
She's alive
And I know inside

My life speed starts slowing down
All of my future plans mistrusted
And as I'm standing here
I start to drown
(It's) not up to me anymore
I know I need her more than ever before

She's struggling against hands of darkness reaching out
The more time is fading the less I will doubt
A woman like her is built to return
As she's regaining I cry out for her
