"Sink"

Into the darkness
Away from the headlights
Away from the chatter
And lovers in arms

I think of the springtime
Down into summer
Replay the moments
I kept close to home
Cause I keep you in my heart
Yes I keep you in my heart

Make way expectation
You're driving me crazy
No I can't reason with you
Don't know what you're thinking
Can't you give me something
To keep me sane

Cause I'm getting tired
Of reliving nights
To make up for mornings
Filled with doubt
Can't you give me something
Can't you give me something
Oh God give me something to hold me over

And maybe I'll stop
Thinking about yesterday
And everything that could have been
Keep my head above the clouds
I'll keep my head up
But it's so much easier to sink than swim
So much easier to go down
So much easier to go down
