Can't hear what they're saying to me
They're right in front of me, and you're so distracting
I'm looking beyond their faces looking at me
You're just arriving and my heartbeat's reacting

Best feeling ever
When you first spoke a word to me
But these past few days
Been like recovering from surgery

How did this come and go so fast?
All I have is memories to keep
I just had the best day of my life
And I cried myself to sleep

We walked around for just a little while
You told me a few times that you like what I wear
And everything you said to me, it made me smile
Just for the record, I love your long hair

Best feeling ever
When you first spoke a word to me
But these past few days
Been like recovering from surgery

How did this come and go so fast?
All I have is memories to keep
I just had the best day of my life
And I cried myself to sleep

We ran out of time
Now you're out of sight
I'm so sorry that I held you up
At the end of the night
The clock was winding down
The second that we met
But now my hand begins to weaken
And this papers getting wet

We ran out of time
Now you're out of sight
I'm so sorry that I held you up

At the end of the night
The clock was winding down
The second that we met
But now my hand begins to weaken
And this papers getting wet

How did this come and go so fast?
All I have is memories to keep
I just had the best day of my life
And I cried myself to sleep
