I've never been a friend of true love
It's not really a word I discuss But I'm lying here in the arms of someone I long to trust Cupid never once shot at me so I would be a fool to believe that my heart says no then I let it go but I hear it saying yes

Never thought we would be even talking
Never thought we would end up in something Funny how you can answer the calling
when you fall in love (oh)
It can come and it don't give a warning
Late at night or early in the morning
It don't care if your heart has been running
That's the call of love (oh)

It didn't seam to be the role for me so I was as confused as one could be On the path to somewhere I had never been before So like the first day that we met I was still taking baby steps because I had the key but what if love was not the door

Never thought we would be even talking
Never thought we would end up in something
Funny how you can answer the calling
when you fall in love (oh)
It can come and it don't give a warning
Late at night or early in the morning
It don't care if your heart has been running
That's the call of love (oh)

Is it meant to be something so unusual to me that when I try to find it it only wants to hide from me?
In a distance something feels reminiscence Like a deja vu

But I've never been here with you (oh)

RAP

oh oh oh oh oh ...

Never thought we would end up in something
Funny how you can answer the calling
when you fall in love (oh)
It can come and it don't give a warning
Late at night or early in the morning
It don't care if your heart has been running
That's the call of love (oh)

Never thought we would end up in something
Funny how you can answer the calling
when you fall in love (oh)
It can come and it don't give a warning
Late at night or early in the morning
It don't care if your heart has been running
That's the call of love (oh)

oh oh oh oh oh ...
That's the call of love
