You can't be serious
There must be some mistake
Am I delirious?
Or do I feel a heartquake
This is critical
How much can I take?
It's so electrical
I know that it's a heartquake

Love was a stranger
Never at my door
With love came a danger
I never felt before
I was stopped in my tracks
I'm too late, there's no turning back

I got the picture and i got the sound
Everytime you're near me
My heart begins to begins to pound
And then I start to shake
Please stop, how much can I take?

You can't be serious
There must be some mistake
Am I delirious?
Or do I feel a heartquake
This is critical
How much can I take?
It's so electrical
I know that it's a heartquake

You've got imagination
Let's put it to the test
Tell me what i'm thinking
See if you can guess
I want you now
Instantly
I can't believe
This change over me

I never get excited

But when you come around
The Earth begins to shake
My heart begins to pound
And then, My heart stops
I can't breathe
The room's too hot

You can't be serious
There must be some mistake
Am I delirious?
Or do I feel a heartquake
This is critical
How much can I take?
It's so electrical
I know that it's a heartquake

You can't be serious
There must be some mistake
Am I delirious?
Or do I feel a heartquake
This is critical
How much can I take?
It's so electrical
I know that it's a heartquake

I can't run
I can't hide
This change over me
It's too much
I can't fight
The powers that be

Where am I?
What can be?
It's out of control
In my heart
I like it
So deep in my soul...soul
