-Verse 1-

See the problem lies,
In selling this place.
This is where I sat,
On all those rainy days.
This is where I learn to walk,
And spell my name.

Well it's always been your court,
I assume it's your ball.
I learned to live my life,
In between these walls.
*Growing make your mark,
Come on to see how tall I am, *
Now that we're leaving here,

-Chorus-

I'm gonna go and find a place you can call my own, Wish each other the best and we carry on, (It's the least we can do).

-Verse 2-

You see the problem lies,
In moving to fast,
As if we have learned nothing,
From our jaded past.
*I was a fighter and,
You were another man*

And we worked so damn hard,
To afford this place,
Well I can't stand expressions,
You went on your way.
Everybody knows that it's almost come to blows,
And now's a good a time as any,

-Chorus-

To just get up and go,
And find a place you can call your own,
Wish each other the best and we carry on, (It's the least
we can do).

-Bridge-

When we die we go,
When fly we go,
When we're alive we go.

When we die we go,
When we fly we go,
When we're alive we go.

-Chrous-

Go and find a place you can call your own, Wish each other the best, and we carry on, (It's the least we can do).
