It's like you made it a point to cross
All of the lines, you swore you heard a sound
Brought to life with your knees on the ground

Make up your mind
Quit lying to yourself
It's just a matter of time
Before they find you out

You said you had a reason to believe

There's nothing left to say
Along the way
I lost my faith in you
I've seen everything
I don't believe
You really thought this through

I have nothing left to prove
It's too bad you have
Everything to lose

You said that you would change
But change will never
Live up to it's name
I hear you but it all sounds the same

Just get in line
And try to live with yourself
It's just a matter of time
Before they find you out

You said you had a reason to believe
(But that will never be a part of me!)

Along the way
I lost my faith in you
I've seen everything
I don't believe
You really thought this through

It's too bad you have
Everything to lose

I'll do everything to push you out
To shut you up, to bring you down
Cause in this town
What goes around
Comes around

I'll do everything to push you out
To shut you up, to bring you down
Cause in this town
What goes around
Comes around

I'll do everything to push you out
Cause in this town
Comes around

I'll do everything to push you out
Cause in this town
Comes around

Along the way
I lost my faith in you
I've seen everything

It's too bad you have
