I've made mistakes
But I've used them well
At least I never tried to
Play the part of someone else

And here we go!

Picking up where we just left off
Staying honest is the hardest part
There's always something new
To keep you guessing
But who you really are
Is not interesting
All this comes in time
I've got you barely breathing now
You're begging to get out

I've made mistakes
But I've used them well
At least I never tried to
Play the part of someone else
I take a step and look around
(Look around! )
We're all misplaced
Waiting for our escape

Why does it feel like someone's breathing
Down the back of my neck all the time?
Cause my emotions are unfocused
But my dress code in check

Staying honest is the hardest part
(Hardest part)
Life is just a question
Without an honest answer
It's got you barely breathing now
You're begging to get out
You're begging to get out
(To get out)

I've made mistakes
But I've used them well

At least I never tried to
Play the part of someone else
I take a step and look around
(Look around! )
We're all misplaced
We're waiting for our escape

We're trying to escape
Take a step and look around
(Take a step and look around)
We're all misplaced
Waiting for our escape

I've made mistakes
But I've used them well

I've made mistakes
But I've used them well

Staying honest is the hardest part
Life's a question, it's got you barely breathing

Staying honest is the hardest part
Life's a question, it's got me barely breathing

Staying honest is the hardest part

Life's a question, it's got me barely breathing now
