"Love Breaks Down"

you stole my love and gave it back when you got done to ease my pain i'd swim through psychotropic sun i feel like a shipwrecked clown but will i get back to the world i've left behind?

when the love breaks down inside it's a feeling that kills me man when there's nowhere left to hide i'd kill for a feeling now i'll always care

i know its all been said before bye for now i have to see about a star love it was an after thought in the world outside but i'll find it when i fly

when the love breaks down inside

i'd kill for a feeling now
