mr. green i think i find your face familiar you reminded me i know we're very similar fading out inside swallow all the shame and hide the hurt and pain satellite you're not alone satellite you're not alone

oh, we lose ourselves so easily oh, we lose ourselves so easily blue i know i'm you your shoulder to the world again paint it black and hide photograph the lies inside you're cracking up
