I wanna hold you
Breath your smile and pass away
My life is a cold tune
Carving in the air
And I know
My dreams wont carry me forever, no
But we werent meant to fail
A shade of god
Say a prayer
Beguiled
All of my values
I have sold out to this day
It burns me like a moth to a flame
And I know
My faith wont carry me forever, no
But we werent made to fail
A shade of god
Say a prayer
Beguiled
I saw her coming from a two-headed star
Covered in flowers pure at heart
Holding my spirit in a golden egg
Black turns to blue
White becomes red
