"Countess From Hong Kong"

Countess from Hong Kong she moves so lightly like the summer rain Everytime I see and I think about her it ends up the same Walkin' the streets out in Singapore it was a funny sight But let me say the countess from Hong Kong she did everything right

Countess from Hong Kong
oh, countess from Hong Kong

Countess from Hong Kong she moves so lightly
she's like the summer breeze And all of the princes they came from India they fell down on their knees Silks and satins, what a purple suede she cut among the trees Countess from Hong Kong believe me baby now you're, oohhh, like a summer breeze
