Unholy city a sinners delight
No-one was spared out of mind, out of sight
Hatred and slaughter, degradation and lust
Self destruction never counting the cost,
No-one knew the suffering
Behind the city walls
No-one heard the cry for help
No-one heard the call . .

One thousand days in sodom
One thousand days in sodom
The ways of god forgotten
One thousand days in sodom

Children slaughtered daily there mothers by their sides
No mercy given no matter how they cried
The smell of death was near It's presence ever near
The priests lay bound in chains no-one would ever hear,
No-one knew the blasphemy
The torture and the pain
No-one saw the madness
The priests, they died in vain . .

Day completes it's cycle and night takes on it's role Satan's cloak shrouds the land and his children spill their fold
No golden cross of heaven
Or ancient key of kings
Could save the world of sinners when the midnight sabbath rings
Few could hear the suffering
And the pain of ripping flesh
But those who did were damned in hell
And breathed their final breath . .

One thousand days
One thousand years you've lived your life in hell.
