The good old times they never seem to appear again
The strangest thing is that you feel as you've lost all your friends
Time to grow up and face the fact that you are on your own
Do not hesitate
It'll only make you strong Someday soon you'll make a move I know will change your way
Someday soon you'll take the time to brighten someone's day
Time to move on and let the past be past That's what it is Put a smile on your face
It'll be alright, it'll be ok

All and all it's all about you
It's all about the trace you make Don't get stuck on mistakes
All and all it's all about you
About you
All and all it's all about you
It's all about you

Now a days you feel like you're just barely hanging on Been trying way too hard to make them think that you're still strong
Not embarrassed, you're not afraid You're just who you are Just figured out all this Just lit a star
Someday soon you can look back and smile - cause you're ok
Hidden dreams and memories did help you find that way
Time to look up and look around and see You're not alone
Put a smile on your face
It'll be alright, it'll be ok

Ref.

Raise your head up Close your eyes and see What's inside you is what you can be
Try to make the best of everything

Aaaa...

Someday soon you'll make a move I know will change
yourway
Someday soon you'll take the time to brighten your own day
Your own day
