My heart's on trial for murder
For killing anything that gets in my way
It might not be that dramatic
But it sure feels that way
But I'm really not here and I'm not adding up to what I expect of me

I saw my hero staring at me from the crowd
And suddenly I know I got my feet up off the ground
'Cause that can be me, or this could be you
But I can't let this fall apart

And I've been known for confrontation
To only two best friends of mine
And I've been trying to justify
What I call my best effort and I find
But I'm really not here and I'm not adding up to what I
expect of me

I saw my hero staring at me from the crowd
And suddenly I know I got my feet up off the ground
'Cause that can be me, or this could be you
But I can't let this fall apart

When you don't have anything, you don't have anything to lose

I saw my hero staring at me from the crowd
And suddenly I know I got my feet up off the ground
'Cause that can be me, or this could be you
But I can't let this fall apart
