Middle Of The Song
Written by: Veronica Ballestrini

Something about the way you, held my hand made me feel like you, were meant for me Oh baby, oh baby your blue eyes had me so convinced that you were my prince, riding in to save me, oh save me and I, don't know what went wrong but you, walked away in the middle of the song

Snow was falling' down Tennessee it was the 10th of January, when you leaned in and kissed me, oh kissed me and I, didn't know what to do It all came to soon, but let me tell ya it was amazing, amazing

Where ever you are in the world today
If you're hearing this
I just wish you would say
What was on your mind?
Do you think of me?
Why'd you string me along?
and then walked away
In the middle of the song?

When anything ever gets too much
The only thing you've known is to run farther, and farther Well I hope that you, found what you wanted but don't excepted me to forget it's not that easy, that easy

Where ever you are
in the world today
If you're hearing this
I just wish you would say

What was on your mind?
Do you think of me?
Why'd you string me along?
and then walked away
In the middle of the song?

Do you ever wonder, what our song would have sounded like?
You and I singing, under a starry night, it would have been alright, yea
I thought you wanted to be real? How come you couldn't say what you feel?
Was there a battle raging inside of you, and you didn't know what to do?
so you just walked away, walked away, far away...

Where ever you are
in the world today
I just wish you would say
What was on your mind?
Do you think of me?
Why'd you string me along?
and then walked away
In the middle of the song?
