Nothing here is what it seems
You've been chasing after empty dreams
This worlds been lying to you
Pulled you further from the truth
Took you to a cold dark place
Filled you heart with disgrace
Isolated all alone, you can't even go home
Left you there wondering, how you ever got like this, got like this...

Oh but just...

Hold on, don't you go losing it now,
The sun will shine and help you find your way out
Your broken heart pounds like thunder
The waves they try to pull you under
Don't be afraid, he said "There's nothing to fear"
The price was paid, when He she'd His blood and tears
The lightening strikes will make it hard to see through
But he will calm this storm inside of you

In this life it's sink or swim
And it's so easy, to give in Picks you up when you're vulnerable
A thief in the night, tries to steal your soul
Takes you to a cold place
Fills your heart with disgrace
Isolated all alone, you can't even go home
Dirty looks from everyone
You're wondering what you have done, what you have done...

It's a long way down, but just turn around and walk the other way
It's not too late, just listen and you'll hear him say...

Hold on, don't you go losing it now,
The sun will shine and help you find your way out
Your broken heart pounds like thunder
The waves they try to pull you under
Don't be afraid, he said "There's nothing to fear"

The price was paid, when I shed my blood and tears
The lightning strikes will make it hard to see through
But I will calm this storm inside of you

Just hold on Hold on
