You've got to hold on tonight
Do you think that it's easy trying to take me for a ride?
Signs, time that you recognised them doesn't work anymore
It's gone and you can't make it right

Please just read my lips get the message now baby I've been tangled enough don't get me caught up again Time, I've lost count of the times I've been had do you blame me But enough of this madness no more to say it's been said

And all this time I've been holding it together
If you walked a mile in my shoes you'd know what I'd been going through How many times can we go back?
Make the same mistakes
It's written all over your face

You and I were a river flowing Now the tide has turned and all of my tears have run dry
How come I am the one left standing?
Now I'm drowning inside
all of my tears have run dry

Back right where I started again But it's hard to forget everything's so different then I would have moved mountains if you'd asked me to That's a lifetime ago
You've got to face up to the truth

Forgetting all of our mistakes
I just keep on falling right back in again

You and I were a river flowing
Now the tide has turned
and all of my tears have run dry
How come I am the one left standing?
Now I'm drowning inside
all of my tears have run dry

Turned my back and I don't regret it One more time would be hell if I let it Take my word for it, dont forget it Check my eyes cause my tears have run dry

You and I were a river flowing
Now the tide has turned and all of me tears have run dry
How come I am the one left standing?
Now I'm drowning inside
all of my tears have run dry
