Convicted of every crime there was he had a week there's no question of what he deserved but some guy just died in his place And some time went by who knows why that guy showed him that love and gave him new hope. but that convict forgot it he went out and did it again that convict forgot it went all out and arrested again and it's just like me and you when it comes down to it it's just like me and you And we are the same as that convict we are so weak there's no question of what we deserved but Jesus has died in our place and sometime goes by and we know why Why that guy showed us that love and gave us new hope. and we seem to forget it we do it again and again We seem to forget it, just like that convict, our friend. Because he's just like me and you, when it comes down to it just like me and you
