Over the mountains to grandmas house the whole towns worried sick where did Jesse go? it's funny how time can change so much but can't change everything and high school came and still the same learned the hard way and now you've hit life, a job and a wife but time can't change everything in all this time we've come to find in all this time in all this time look where we've climbed in all this time killing off my GI Joe's home movie after movie where did those go? it's funny how time can change so much but can't change everything and high school came you got straight A's mom thinks I should too your well on you way don't waste today time can't change everything in all this time we've come to find in all this time in all this time look where we've climbed in all this time and all these years of growing up change can't take away great mom and dad who's learned us up where would we be? in all this time we've come to find in all this time in all this time look where we've climbed in all this time
