Kids aren't the same anymore foolishness has taken over we're not going to be that way we're not going to fit in with them. we'll be here if we're the only ones left standing quitters quit but we'll be here to stay things might change and our dreams might happen but we wont get drunk...OH NO! We're not here for nothing so take away our dreams, throw rocks at our heads God still has our hearts like all those Rocky movies, you can't tear us apart we'll be here if we're the only ones left standing quitters quit but we'll be here to stay things might change and our dreams might happen but we wont get drunk...OH NO! We're not here for nothing
