Here I am, Once again now
Standing right where you left me
All alone I should have known how
Hearts like these are always broken.

There you go, behind the closed door
Run around and do what you will Killing me and I can't take when
Hearts like these are always broken.

You say you can fix this
You're changing for the better
You know I believe you
Not this time.

Every day I'm wandering further
Looking for a hand to hold on to
I wrote the end of your story
I'm done, I'm sick of saying sorry
So, where do I go
Go from here
When we all know
Hearts will be broken
Hearts will be broken
Broken

Here you are, telling me now
To believe the things that you say
Pretty soon you're gonna see how
Hearts like these are always broken

You're the type and you're the reason
I let it go on for so long
And when you go, I'm getting even
Hearts like these are always broken

You say you can fix this
You're changing for the better
You know I believe you
Not this time.

Every day I'm wandering further

Looking for a hand to hold on to
I wrote the end of your story
I'm done, I'm sick of saying sorry
So, where do I go
Go from here
When we all know
Hearts will be broken
Hearts will be broken
Broken
