You take my hand, move like a sheet across the floor
let's dance
Blankly that look, but I can read you like an open book
Holding me tight, it seems that I'm the lucky girl tonight
To my dismay, I think you've caught me in your trap again

I confess, I'm hypnotized
Although I know that it's not wise
For guys like you, don't stay around
You want to win each heart in town

Just wish I knew, what you wanted me to do for you Playing your games, impress the girls but never ask their name
Hatfull of dreams, a pseudo-king who's waiting for his queen
License to live, if it feels good you don't care who it's with

I confess, I'm hypnotized
Although I know that it's not wise
For guys like you, don't stay around
You want to win each heart in town

Alright it's true, you've won me too
Just can't resist the things you do

I confess, I'm hypnotized
Each time I look into your eyes
I try hard to be so cool
But end up feeling like a fool
I just can't deny it's true
I'll always hold the ball for you
I confess, I'm hypnotized
Although I know that it's not wise
