I don't go down chimneys or bring a big bag of toys I don't ride on sleighs or have gifts for girls and boys I don't have nine flying reindeers or know if you're naughty or nice I don't come only once a year when the sky rains down ice
I am Plain-Clothes Santa

No one questions my existence
I am not only in fairy tales
No one sits on my lap when stores have Christmas sales No one leaves cookies and milk on the table for me at night
No one writes down what they want I don't have elves of limited height
I am Plain-Clothes Santa

I can help you every day all seasons of the year I am not shady like Santa if you need anything, I'm here My name isn't even Santa it is, in fact, Victor Ly I'd actually make a horrible Santa because I can only be me

But... you can call me Plain-Clothes Santa! =)
