I hear everything you say
And what would it take for you to just be gone
Tell me what's the big deal
With my life
That you can't complete your own
I hear your constant whispers
About my career
Why can't you just leave me alone
Cos this time around
Let's just call .... (not a freakin clue)
That a Spice Girl's at the door

I don't mean to be rude
But you've been pushing me
When will it end
Why can't you let me be

Tell me how does it feel
To be one of the jealous ones

When you see that people can't stand
When you're happy, they're the jealous ones
I ain't mad, I never been more happy
I'm doing me, regardless of the jealous ones (errrrm?)

Some are happy for me now
Some say how long will it last
Cos they think I'm just a Spice Girl
What chance do I have

Well I'm sick and tired of all
The negativity in you
See I've been multi-platinum
What can you tell me about you

But I guess this is what
My hand calls for (I think this makes sense...)
Some just love to hate you
And hate to love you even more

Every time, I turn around

I run into a jealous one

When you see that people can't stand
When you're happy, they're the jealous ones
I ain't mad, I never been more happy
I'm doing me, regardless of the jealous ones

Don't be mad at me my baby
Cos I stay spinnin on you haters (?)
It doesn't matter what you say
Because Posh will always remain

Don't be mad at me my baby
Cos I stay spinnin on you haters
It doesn't matter what you say
Because Posh will always remain

Tell me how does it feel
To be one of the jealous ones

When you see that people can't stand
When you're happy, they're the jealous ones
I ain't mad, I never been more happy
I'm doing me, regardless of the jealous ones
