It's too late to stop loving you too late to stop loving you you gave me love, that's a fact now you're saying you want it back but that ain't something i can do too late to turn back the time what's done is done what's mine is mine you can't just reel me in and then throw me out again cos it's too late to stop loving you when we first met you sent me flowers wooded me in classy restaurants you telephoned me every hour said "i'll give you anything you want" chocolates and strawberries had me down upon my knees and every time you said "baby please" i knew what i had to do now it's too late to stop loving you

and it's too late to stop loving you
