I see things in black and white Either its wrong or right theres no in between You see Things in other ways
Every shade of grey
Some blue and some grey I open up my willing arms just to let you in There's one thing you should know before we begin

I wont be your port in a storm Just somebody there keeping you warm
I want everything you gotta give It's the only way im gunna live
and if i can't have that i want nothing at all

I'mm balancing on a wire
I know that playing with fire will do me no good Youu- You're playing a clever game calling me by my name- in tune with my note

I can see a perfect kiss from falling on your lips
But what happens after this Will you sink this in

I wont be your port in a storm Just somebody there
keeping you warm
I want everything you gotta give
It's the only way im gunna live
and if i can't have that i want nothing at all

Got my eyes on the road Got my hand on the wheel
Got my face to the wind
But there's one thing you should know before we begin-Yeaaah

I wont be your port in a storm Just somebody there
keeping you warm
I want everything you gotta give
It's the only way im gunna live and if i can't have that i want nothing at alllll, Yeahh yeahh yeahh

Its the only way im going to live.. yea
I'm balaning on a wire..
I know im playinng with fire... Yea

I won't be a port in your storm
