Back To The Drawing Board

You've been everywhere but here, your gestures aren't sincere.

Yeah I know who runs the show round here.

Played a gig in Brighton town on a day you weren't around.

The way some texts can be speaks volumes to me.

But this time it's no surprise, I wrote this song to leave it all behind.

I'll play the game, start again.

You've been everywhere but here, your gestures aren't sincere.

Yeah I know who runs the show.

Lurked your profile page - man I should act my age sometimes.

It's time to embrace the smile on my face that sexual politics seem to undermine.

But this time it's no surprise, I wrote this song to leave it all behind.

I'll play the game, start again sometimes.
