Listen in realaudio
She has hair as black as night
From her eyes there shines a light
She can calm the wind
And heal a wounded soul
She has fire in her heart
One that warms you from the start
She can hold your thoughts forever

Chorus
And when she cries
All rivers flow
On wings she flies
Where noone knows
She goes where noone knows
She knows what noone knows
She is the heart of every woman
She loves a gentle touch
She never asks for much
She is the heart of every woman

She is the love of every man
She is the beauty of the land
And a flower grows
From every step she takes

Chorus
