Throw the sorrow from your heart
I know you can make a brand new start
You have so much more to give
Don't give up your will to live

Love will come and go away
On a rainy day
Love will come and then will stay
On a celebration day
Love is all around
Sometimes lost but always found
Love will come and love will go

Turn your darkness into light
Don't be frightened by the lonely nights
There is nothing more to fear
Better days will soon be here

Love will come and go away
On a rainy day
Love will come and then will stay
On a celebration day
Love is all around
Sometimes lost but always found
Love will come and love will go
