Watching the lines draw the walls
Then there's no lines at all
Just a tug-o-war on a scar that's fading
Where have they gone? The graffiti clowns Painting up and down, shaking the cage in this part of town

Then the jack pops out of the box and started to waltz
Better watch what you wish for now before it's all out

If all of the races you won
Were all just erased and unrun
Would your wings melt without a sun?

So where will he go? Jean jacket Joe Everything you are, everything you know
Is suddenly rearranged for the cause that came

Then the jack pops out of the box and started to waltz
Better watch what you wish for now before it's all out
As the hope hops out of his heart, it could just stop
So better watch what's coming now before it's all out

Western Ways, Conquistador pay
It'll be ok if you call in late
Just flower them graves with the A+ grades
Everyone wants a piece of the pie
Everyone wants when no one knows why Everyone wants and so did I to have a holiday in the backyard
