Do you remember we spoke Together on our last night
This was in our past life
I remembered you

Do you remember we said
We'd be together in our next life
We were gonna end up all right
I remembered you
But you looked right over me

I stalled now they're asking for the last call
But you don't seem to recall anything of me
But I remember we swore we'd be together in our next life

We were gonna end up all right
I remembered you
But you don't remember me

Remember you had blue eyes
Deeper than the blue sky
The fullness of your true smile
I remembered you
Do you remember we said
we'd be together in our next life
We were gonna end up all right
I remembered
How come you don't remember me?
