Grey, absolutely emptiness
Spare plainly tangible space -
Here you cannot be alone
Just like you tried
You feel that your stick on from the remorse
You drown in the sea of scorn
You deprive yourself of trump, of trust, of mercy, of covenant
Reminiscences of past
You've lost them a long ago
In your own world of scorn
Sick, you have dared say

That in incomprehension you're in force
You've believed the cloaks and love tested in another reality
Now you've understood that You've been lost the years of hard work
You've forgotten about fight of smile
You've forgotten about true advices, about mind
