This isn't what I haven't done tonight. I've wasted every single day. We've fallen. I can't be saved. We're nothing under your wave. Forever we're trying hard to be what we belong to be. This is what isn't mine. This is not the time or the place. I have said it all for you at one time. Replacing this left me all alone. I've wasted every single day without you. We've fallen. I can't be saved. We're nothing under your wave. Forever we're trying hard to be what we belong to be. This is what isn't mine. This is not the time or the place. I have said it all for you at one time. In my time of desperation, who was there? Watching it all, slip away. Is this the bridge I have to cross? We've fallen. I can't be saved. We're nothing under your wave. Forever we're trying hard to be what we belong to be.
