English Lyrics:

If only you had the ears that I have, then I would Sing you a song from the bottom of my heart, but would you hear me?
If only you had the heart that I have, then I would Flood you with all of the love that I have, but would you feel me?

Hey
If you are predisposed to hate me, might as well just Kill me now and save me from this misery
If I can't earn all of your love
You don't need me at all
At all
At all
Baah.

"If only you had", it won't get me anywhere now
I wouldn't go anywhere even if it could be

"Let's do it" + "How do we?" + "Ready go" = Suicide
It's just not my kind of game, but I do not have a choice
'cause if I were to decline, I'd be cast aside and worth not a thing to you, in your eyes

Hey
If I agree to try and hate you, won't you try and love the Me that's beyond caring about your feelings
She that needs you now is gone
She's not here anymore
At all
Hey
It hurts
You know.

If only you had the ears that I have, then I would Sing you a song from the bottom of my heart, but would you
If only you had the heart that I have, then I would
Flood you with all of the love that I have, but would you

Today I don't need to reach your deafened ears and I don't need to try and fill your empty heart, 'cause
All I need now is the agony I see upon your face,
That's good enough for me
In the end
